

Primary questions asked about the program	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Created a needs assessment
What strategies did you use to use to collect data/analyze data?	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Needs assessment to identify student barriers • Completion Contract to identify on campus and off campus resources • Men’s Empowerment Network group to capture qualitative data • Use of Social Media such as Facebook and Linkdn to reach out to stop outs • Advisor Dashboard to input data • Mobile Completion Coaching to identify and address student barriers (immigration forms, Financial Aid paperwork, degree audits, graduation application submissions and transcript questions)
What were the major finding (s)	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Identified students primary barriers consisting of (financial, food, housing and transportation) • Identified students secondary barriers consisting of (cultural narratives and societal expectations) • Identified students tertiary barriers consisting of (undiagnosed mental health issues, separation anxiety, imposter syndrome, and suicidal ideation)
How did you use this information to make necessary improvements to practices?	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • TRiO created a fishbone diagram in order to identify critical touch points in the quarter • TRiO staff have 45-1 hour appointment times and longer drop in hours • TRiO and PFL coach collaborated with disability services to put on Seattle Central’s first mental health resource fair • TRiO has discussed reengagement activities (tabling during the first week of the quarter and during Unity fair. Throwing a first of the quarter kick off and having a movie night in order to address race and racial equity issues).
Reflecting on this effort, what were some of the limitations of this inquiry?	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Interventions were short-term • Students completed their degree • Students continued to have barreirs and stopped out • Coach wasn’t able to track students long term Bo Leong M.Ed. TRiO programs Completion Coach