Online College & Career Readiness Courses for Counselors, College & Career Readiness, and CTE Staff

Puget Sound College & Career Network is facilitating four online courses to support educators in deepening their understanding and practice around college and career readiness. Using content from Southern Regional Education Board's Go Alliance Academy, these courses use national research-based content and are facilitated by regional leaders in college and career readiness. Topics prioritized by educators in our region include:

- Building a College-Going Culture for All Students
- College and Career Advising for Special Populations
- College, Career and Academic Planning

Selection: Courses are limited to 20 participants. Courses are open to school counselors, college and career specialists, administrators, teachers, and community-based professionals who support students in navigating college and career options. Applicants will be selected based on the following criteria and notified by March 15.

- Teams of 3-4 from a school and/or district
- Works directly with first generation, low income, and students of color
- Participants who can commit to consistent participation and completion of the module
